

Bring a few bucks
when you come to
the LIMac Annual Flea Market
so you can buy some hardware
or software.

Maybe even some books, T-shirts or posters. Something that you'd like. Friday, August 11th in Building 300 (Anna Rubin Hall), The New York Institute of Technology, Old Westbury.

Be there at 7p.m. for the regular Q&A session by Bradley. Then, he'll update you on all the details about MACWORLD. After that, visit the tables and shop, shop, shop! (Note to sellers: Tables are free; and, don't forget to pre-attach pricing tags before you arrive.)

Meanwhile, we're working on obtaining exciting, nationally-known speakers for future meetings. We'll keep you informed. Next meeting: September 8th!
